

Fill classes of Insurance

BOHAN

INSURANCE COMPANY LIMITED

HEAD OFFICE: JERUSALEM - TEL AVIV
BETH SHEAN - TEL AVIV - BETH SHEAN

TUESDAY,
JULY 14, 1959

THE JERUSALEM POST

PRICE: 150 PRUTA
VOL. XXXV, No. 9471

DUBEK

FILTER

WITH THE DICO FILTER

Sapir Presents Six-Year Plan For Investments

OST Economic Reporter

A special organization to encourage foreign investment in local industry has been proposed in a preliminary report on industrial development drawn up by the Minister of Commerce and Industry, Mr. Pinhas Sapir.

The six-year plan is aimed at helping to increase industrial production from IL4,715 m. to about IL4,500 m. It foresees the further investment of $600m. to $800m. within the next six years. This is roughly equal to the sum invested during the first decade of the State.

The report foresees a dropping off in capital investment from abroad in the next six years, when German Reparations will end. The gap in Israel's foreign currency needs, about $150m., will have to be made up by an expanded industrial establishment producing mainly for export.

Need for Jobs

This, and the need to provide the growing population with sources of work, place a much greater emphasis on the need to develop industry than was the case in the previous decade. In the past three years industry has absorbed 27,000 workers and will take another 9,000 this year.

In his report, Mr. Sapir proposes the establishment of a central body staffed by five or six internationally known experts. They are to be aided by a staff of about 30 to prepare and check plans for industrial investments.

Three or four offices are to be set up abroad to coordinate publicity and to maintain contact with potential investors. These offices will be aided by between 30 and 40 representatives in the U.S., Canada, South Africa, Europe, Britain, South America and the Far East.

Foreign investors will be permitted to convert all their earnings into foreign currency. A special body is to supervise the issue of industrial securities and a separate organization is to investigate and certify the financial position of local firms seeking foreign investments. A new bank will be set up to finance the increased industrial production and exports.

Khrushchev Denies Emigration to Israel

CAIRO (Reuters).—The Cairo newspaper "Al-Ahram" reported on Monday that Mr. Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Prime Minister, had sent a letter to the Imam of Yemen in Rome denying reports of mass emigration of Jews from Russia to Israel.

The newspaper said that Mr. Khrushchev, answering a letter from Imam Ahmed, said the Soviet Union had informally approached the countries of Eastern Europe conveying the Imam's views against Jewish emigration.

Mr. Khrushchev said that reports about Jewish emigration from Russia were "imperialist lies" and assured the Imam she can depend upon the unbroken and sincere friendship of the Soviet Union, "which is inspired with an ardent wish for the Yemen's economic prosperity."

Our beloved Clara Brurya Singer (nee Pollak)

from Praha Rodslavice, has passed away after a long illness.

The funeral will leave today (Tuesday, July 14), at 12 noon from Ziv Hospital, Jerusalem.

Her family and friends

With deep sorrow we announce the death of the head of our family,

Rabbi Shlomo Eisenberg,

at the age of 60.

on Monday, July 13, 1959 (seventh day of Tamuz, 5719).

The funeral will leave from the Hadasah Ziv Hospital tomorrow, Wednesday, July 15, at 1 p.m.

The Bereaved Family

The Executive of The Jewish Agency

mourns the untimely passing of

Shlomo Eisenberg

who served as General Secretary of the Jewish Agency for many years.

The funeral procession will leave from the Hadasah Ziv Hospital tomorrow, Wednesday, at 1 p.m.

M.K.'s Discuss Wadi Salib

Social Conditions Blamed for Trouble

Jerusalem Post Knesset Reporter

The demonstrations in the Wadi Salib quarter of Haifa last week should make us aware of the urgency of raising the standard of living of the Oriental communities. This was the consensus of opinion among speakers in yesterday's Knesset debate on the Haifa disorders.

The trouble was touched off when a rumour spread that Yacov Elkari, an immigrant from Morocco, had died of a bullet wound he received while avoiding detention by a police patrol.

At the conclusion of the debate the Knesset, by a vote of 67-13, referred the question to its Internal Affairs Committee. This motion, which was presented by Mr. H. Rubin (Mapai) and Mr. A. Govrin (Mapai), was supported by all parties except Herut and the Communists. Herut's motion to designate the Internal Affairs Committee as a parliamentary committee of inquiry received only 11 Herut votes, while a Communist motion to establish a special parliamentary committee of inquiry received only two Communist votes.

Larger Committee

Minister of Police Bechor Shitrit announced that he had no objection to enlarging the size of the inquiry committee (appointed by the Cabinet on Sunday) from three to five, as had been proposed by Mr. Israel Rokach (General Zionists). He said he would bring the question before the Cabinet.

Mr. Shitrit opened the debate with a statement on what took place in Wadi Salib last Wednesday night and Thursday. He said that there were grounds for questioning whether there had been justification for shooting. He noted that four or five policemen had been present, while Elkari, who was drunk, had not been armed.

The inquiry committee will be headed by a District Court judge (not yet named), Mr. Ishar Harari, M.K., and Rabbi Yitzhak Abuhazera, Rabbi of Ramat Gan.

While most participants in the Knesset debate took the view that the socio-economic status of the residents of the Wadi Salib slum quarter was ultimately responsible for the riots, a number of them praised the police for their restraint after the disturbances had broken out. The rioters, they said, were treated by most speakers as victims of their environment.

'Storm Troops'

Mr. Aryeh Ben-Eliezer (Herut) criticized Mr. Yosef Almog (Mapai), Secretary of the Haifa Labour Council, for having accused some political groups of having instigated the riot. As to the press reports that Mr. Almog had declared that the Haifa workers would keep order in the town if necessary, Mr. Ben-Eliezer said that the maintenance of order was the job of the police and of no one else. Who were these "storm troops" Mr. Almog had spoken of?

Shouts from Mapai benches: "Incitement! You're imagining things!"

Also referring to Mr. Almog's statement, Mr. Ben-Eliezer said that the Haifa Labour Council, for having accused some political groups of having instigated the riot, was responsible for the riot. As to the press reports that Mr. Almog had declared that the Haifa workers would keep order in the town if necessary, Mr. Ben-Eliezer said that the maintenance of order was the job of the police and of no one else. Who were these "storm troops" Mr. Almog had spoken of?

Our beloved Clara Brurya Singer (nee Pollak)

from Praha Rodslavice, has passed away after a long illness.

The funeral will leave today (Tuesday, July 14), at 12 noon from Ziv Hospital, Jerusalem.

Her family and friends

With deep sorrow we announce the death of the head of our family,

Rabbi Shlomo Eisenberg,

at the age of 60.

on Monday, July 13, 1959 (seventh day of Tamuz, 5719).

The funeral will leave from the Hadasah Ziv Hospital tomorrow, Wednesday, July 15, at 1 p.m.

The Bereaved Family

The Executive of The Jewish Agency

mourns the untimely passing of

Shlomo Eisenberg

who served as General Secretary of the Jewish Agency for many years.

The funeral procession will leave from the Hadasah Ziv Hospital tomorrow, Wednesday, at 1 p.m.

Majority For Mayors' Bill, Split Elections

Jerusalem Post Political Reporter

The bill calling for the direct election of mayors and chairmen of local councils and the separation of national and municipal elections is now assured the support of a majority in the Knesset, since Mapai, the General Zionists and the Progressive Party on Sunday reached full agreement to this effect.

The Minister of Justice, Mr. Pinhas Rosen, is on Wednesday to present the bill to the Knesset. The bill, which is expected to be passed in the Knesset before the end of the week, would provide for the direct election of mayors and chairmen of local councils and the separation of national and municipal elections.

Longest Session

In a 10-minute debate at the end of the three-hour meeting — the 19th plenary session and the longest since the talks began on May 11 — Mr. Gromyko and the Western Powers failed to agree on resuming the private sessions which played a large part in the first six weeks of the conference.

They decided instead to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, who presided, said that in the earlier discussions the Ministers were agreed that Germany should be reunified, that free elections should be held for this purpose, and that there should be a final peace settlement at the earliest practicable time.

Differ on Procedure

But they were unable to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, who presided, said that in the earlier discussions the Ministers were agreed that Germany should be reunified, that free elections should be held for this purpose, and that there should be a final peace settlement at the earliest practicable time.

Differ on Procedure

But they were unable to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

Gromyko: E. Germany Must Join Geneva Secret Talks

GENEVA (Reuters).—Russia sprang a surprise at the resumed Foreign Ministers' Conference on Monday with a bid to get Communist East Germany into the secret negotiating sessions of the Big Four.

Mr. Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, told yesterday's plenary session after the three-week recess that he could only agree to the next meeting being private if all six participants — the Big Four and the two Germanies — could attend. Britain, France and the U.S. consider that only the Big Four are participants in the East-West talks, and that the East and West Germans are merely advisers.

Longest Session

In a 10-minute debate at the end of the three-hour meeting — the 19th plenary session and the longest since the talks began on May 11 — Mr. Gromyko and the Western Powers failed to agree on resuming the private sessions which played a large part in the first six weeks of the conference.

They decided instead to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, who presided, said that in the earlier discussions the Ministers were agreed that Germany should be reunified, that free elections should be held for this purpose, and that there should be a final peace settlement at the earliest practicable time.

Differ on Procedure

But they were unable to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, who presided, said that in the earlier discussions the Ministers were agreed that Germany should be reunified, that free elections should be held for this purpose, and that there should be a final peace settlement at the earliest practicable time.

Differ on Procedure

But they were unable to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Western sources said Mr. Gromyko categorically declared once more that Russia would not accept any definite confirmation of the West's occupation rights in Berlin.

But the sources quoted Mr. Gromyko as saying the expiry of the 18-month period he has proposed for the work of an all-German committee on German reunification did not automatically mean a total end to all Western rights in Berlin.

However, at yesterday's session, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said there was "common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals for an interim settlement, presupposed just before the recess.

And Mr. Gromyko, in a 3,000-word speech, also declared that the gap between the two sides was "not so wide at all." He said once again that Russia did not intend to take unilateral action; and if it did, "it could take it now just as well."

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, who presided, said that in the earlier discussions the Ministers were agreed that Germany should be reunified, that free elections should be held for this purpose, and that there should be a final peace settlement at the earliest practicable time.

Differ on Procedure

But they were unable to agree on procedures for achieving these ends, he was reported to have added.

Egyptians Ready Storage Space For Toft Cargo

By ALEX JOANNIDES
Reuters Correspondent

PORT SAID (Reuters).—Egyptian customs officials have begun clearing room in harbour warehouses for the cement cargo on board the Danish freighter Inge Toft, detained here since May 21.

The chief clerk at the warehouse told me: "We will be ready to receive the Inge Toft cement within a couple of days. Unloading will take a full week." There are over 5,000 tons of cement in the ship's holds.

On board the Inge Toft itself, there were no signs of preparations to unload. Lower-deck washing fluted with clothes lines and several sailors basked in the hot sun.

The ship's agent told me later: "We have received no instructions from the ship's charterers cancelling their previous instructions not to unload."

The customs officials cleared the docks, the Master of the Inge Toft, Captain Erhard Schultz, was fishing at the Tami Bridge, 10 kilometers from Port Said.

Sitting on the bench of the Fisherman's Club, surrounded by crew members and friends, Captain Schultz said he was not a sailor and did not want to get involved in an international dispute.

His first words were: "I am not discussing politics. You can see the crew and I are having a wonderful time. We have no food difficulties or other problems."

Reb Koog, a 24-year-old crew member from Copenhagen, said as he dangled his line from the bridge: "We have never enjoyed a trip more."

Shipping agents in Port Said said the Inge Toft could be expected soon in view of the Egyptian preparations and the mounting harbour dues on the ship.

The Mokattam Shipping Agency in Port Said said the charterers of the Inge Toft — said on Monday, however, stated a deposit of £150 had been lodged with the harbour authorities.

In addition, the Inge Toft was paying £4 daily in harbour dues. The spokesman for the agents said £150 had been paid already.

The ship had ample food stores, but £50 had been paid so far for water, the spokesman added.

Teokoh Sees Bunche

UNITED NATIONS (INA).—Israel's Acting Permanent Representative at the U.N., Mr. Yosef Teokoh, on Monday met with Dr. Ralph Bunche, the U.N. Under-Secretary, and discussed the question of the passage of Israel's cargoes through the Suez Canal.

The Foreign Minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, ends her tour of Latin America today, flying to New York where she will stay for about six days, it was learned in Jerusalem last night.

Mrs. Meir arrived on Sunday at San Salvador for two days of talks with leaders of the El Salvador Government.

4 Cubans Hi-Jack Plane to Miami

MIAMI (Reuters).—Four of the crew of a Cuban air force plane took over control of the aircraft today, flying to Miami international airport.

There were 17 air force men aboard when it touched down here.

The four who seized command of the aircraft — on a flight from Havana to Camaguey — in Cuba promptly asked for political asylum in the U.S. The 13 others declared that they wanted to return to Cuba.

NEW IRAQI GOV'T FORMED

Baghdad Radio late on Monday night announced a number of changes and additions in the composition of the Iraqi Cabinet, including the appointment of a woman, for what is believed to be the first time in Arab history.

The woman, Dr. Nasirah Duleimeh, was named for the new post of Minister for Municipal Affairs. Talat Shihani, hitherto Minister of Development, was designated to the new Ministry of Planning.

Dr. Ibrahim Kubbah, up to now Minister of Economics, becomes Minister for Agrarian Reform and Deputy Minister for Oil Affairs.

Other appointments to new posts were: Faisal al-Samer — Minister of Guidance; Abdul Latif Shawar — Minister of Commerce; Auni Yusef — Minister of Public Works and Housing.

Prime Minister Kassem conferred for an hour last night with Mr. Vassily Kuznetsov, First Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, a Defence Ministry announcement said.

Discussions during this "special meeting were cordial and in harmony with the spirit of friendship and complete cooperation in the interests of the two peoples."

The meeting took place within a few hours of the Soviet delegation's arrival in Baghdad to participate in the Revolution anniversary celebrations.

500 Algerian Rebels Killed

ALGIERS (Reuters).—French forces killed 498 nationalist rebels, captured 282 and seized 838 weapons in operations throughout Algeria from July 6 to 12, military headquarters said last night.

French losses were 49 killed, it added.

The Army also announced that insurgent losses in a major operation which started last Thursday in the Hodna Mountains south of Algiers now totalled 132 dead and 94 prisoners.

Thirteen persons, including six Moslems, were killed in an outbreak of terrorist attacks in Algeria over the weekend.

French Left Rejects Anti-De Gaulle Motion

PARIS (Reuters).—The French Socialist Party on Sunday re-affirmed its support for its Secretary-General, M. Guy Mollet, and rejected a motion strongly criticizing President de Gaulle.

The Party, in opposition to the French National Assembly, ended its three-day annual Congress in the Paris suburb of Issy-les-Moulineaux by unanimously re-electing M. Mollet Secretary-General.

The general police motion which won Congress support expressed strong opposition to the De Gaulle Government in financial, social and economic fields, and said the Government's interpretation of the constitution, its use of its majority and of national media of information "have been the subject of a not opposition which will be not more vigorous each day."

On the Algerian question, the Congress resolved that to put an end to the fighting, General de Gaulle's offer of talks with the insurgents "must be renewed under conditions which cannot be confused with a demand for capitulation."

29 Poles Drown While Bathing in Heatwave

WARSAW (Reuters).—At least 29 persons were drowned in Poland on Sunday while bathing during the heatwave there, according to reports on Monday from Warsaw and four other Polish provinces.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
To Holders of 'Koah' Bearer Certificates

The first series of 'Koah' Bearer Certificates issued by us fell due on July 1, 1959, and are now payable at their nominal value.

We are now in a position to offer holders of these 'Koah' Bearer Certificates a continuation of their investment upon special terms under the 'Koah' scheme, and we suggest that they apply at once, in their own interest, to our nearest branch for particulars and necessary action.

Bank Leumi le-Israel B.M.

BANK LEUMI
LE ISRAEL B.M.

With advertisement in either an offer to sell or a collection of an offer to buy any of these shares.

ISSUE OF

800,000 Shares

AMERICAN ISRAELI PAPER MILLS LTD.

Ordinary Shares — Series B

of N. 1. — each

Price per share N.L. 1.900

Subscription opens tomorrow, at 9.30 a.m. and will close July 20, 1959 at 2.30 p.m. The Company however reserves the right to close the subscription at any time prior to July 20.

Applications may be made through and Copies of the Prospectus obtained from our undermentioned offices and all other banks and members of the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange.

ELLERN'S BANK LTD.

Tel. Aviv • Jerusalem • Haifa • Be'er Sheva • Netanya • Rosh Ha'ayin • Rehovot • Tel. Aviv

July 14, 1959

GENERAL FEDERATION OF JEWISH LABOUR IN ISRAEL

AMERICAN HISTADRUT CENTRE

RECEPTION

IN HONOUR OF

THE ELEVENTH FOLK DELEGATION AND HISTADRUT FRIENDS FROM ABROAD

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1959, 8.30 P.M.

IN THE GARDEN OF FARRAND-HAMLIN HOUSE 30 REHOV WEIZMANN, TEL AVIV

GUESTS AND TOURISTS CORDIALLY INVITED

ENTRANCE — FREE

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

Today's Postbag

The Weather

	A	B	C	D
Jerusalem	24	26	27	28
Tel Aviv	24	26	27	28
Haifa	24	26	27	28
Beersheva	24	26	27	28
Eilat	24	26	27	28

(A) Humidity at 3 p.m. (B) Minimum temp. (C) Maximum temp. (D) Maximum temp. expected today.

ARRIVALS

Dr. F. P. Forster, Chairman of the Board of the Bank Leumi, from London, on bank business, (by air).

Dr. Michael Anbar, of the Institute of Research in the Weizmann Institute, from France, where he participated in a symposium on instruction in the use of nuclear energy, (by air).

Dr. David Vofsi, head of the Physics Laboratory at the Weizmann Institute, from a visit to scientific institutions in England and the U.S., (by air).

Mrs. H. Wisenthal, National Treasurer of Canadian Hadassah-WZO.

DEPARTURES

Mr. Y. Ben-Aharon, of the Israel Esperanto Association, for an eight-day international congress of Esperantists, which opens in Warsaw at the beginning of August.

A CLUB for 180 orphans in Ramat Gan was opened on Monday by the President of the Ramat Gan Rotary Club, Mr. A. Arzi. Rotary is supporting the club.

A REHABILITATION centre for old people and new immigrants from Hungary was inaugurated on Sunday in Shikun Havatzelet, Ramat Gan. The institution, which cost IL50,000, was established by the Association of Hungarian Immigrants in the U.S. and Israel, and will employ some 30 persons in handicraft and crafts.

"SETTLEMENT DAY" sponsored by the Jewish Agency Settlement Department will be held in Neve Yarak near Ramat Gan on Tuesday. Some 30 settlements in the Ramat Gan area, most of the settlers of which are new immigrants, will show what they have achieved in agriculture.

Liberian President's Gift to Hebrew U.

A complete edition of the laws and legislative history of Liberia — the gift of the President of Liberia, Dr. William V.S. Tubman — was presented to the Hebrew University's Law Faculty yesterday by the Liberian Ambassador Mr. Jerome Yancy.

The Ambassador said that President Tubman, himself an outstanding jurist, realized that knowledge of any country's laws and of its political and legislative history was of the greatest importance to students of law. The present occasion, therefore, represented a further effort on the part of President Tubman to strengthen the foundations of friendship between Israel and Liberia.

The Dean of the Law Faculty, Prof. A. Levintin, said the University was grateful not only for the books but also for the friendship which they symbolized.

After meeting with members of the Law Faculty, the Ambassador and Mrs. Yancy were the guests of honour at a luncheon given by Prof. Levintin.

Infiltrators Steal Cows in Negev

BEERSHEVA. — Infiltrators from the Gaza Strip stole 10 cows worth IL4,000 from Moshe Yehonatan in the Western Negev on Saturday night. Security forces who pursued the infiltrators to the border managed to retrieve three of the cows. It is learned that the moshav watchmen were at the local cinema showing at the time the cows were stolen.

Infiltrator 'Came To Seek Work'

NAZARETH. — A 30-year-old Lebanese infiltrator, Haili el-Abed el-Habib, claimed before the Anti-Infiltration Military Tribunal here on Monday that he was out of work in his own country and came to Israel to find employment.

He was sentenced to 26 months in jail for infiltrating into Israel early this month. (Itm)

With deep sorrow we announce the passing away of my dear husband, our beloved father, father-in-law, brother and grandfather,

Erwin (Jacob) Gruenewald

on behalf of the bereaved family
Fenny Gruenewald

Kiryat Motzkin, July 14, 1959.
Please refrain from condolence calls.

With deep sorrow we announce the passing away of our beloved mother, sister and grandmother,

Herta Koretz (née Eber)

The funeral took place at Kiryat Shaul on July 13, 1959.
on behalf of the bereaved family

Dr. Daniel Brachot and Liane Brachot, née Koretz.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to our Director

Mr. Paulo Castelnuovo

on the death of his

Father

The management and employees of

AVIZAR LTD.

T. A. Council Fayed for Delay, High Cost of New Hospital

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Charges of gross mismanagement in the construction of the new Municipal Hospital, alleging that its premature opening may endanger the health of patients, were made here on Monday by Mr. E. Schechter, Council opposition leader (Mapai) and head of the local Labour Council.

Criticizing Deputy-Mayor A. Shechterman (Herut), in charge of the hospital project, Mr. Schechter said that a united Labour opposition would call upon the Minister of Interior to probe further the matter and ask for a special investigation committee.

Twelve years of "fumbling" and delays, Mr. Schechter asserted, had already cost the city's tax-payers an extra IL2m, more than double the original estimates.

The Municipality's present plan for opening one wing of the hospital as a pre-election stunt, he charged, by doing so without awaiting completion of vital supporting departments such as a blood-bank and emergency wards, critically ill patients may be deprived of vital medical assistance.

Cut in Beds

The 800-bed hospital, as planned originally, has now been reduced to a 300-400-bed institution. With the closing down of the "old" Hadassah Hospital, the total number of hospital beds in the city may even be further reduced, Mr. Schechter concluded.

Quoting comparative prices for hospitals built in recent years, Mr. E. Degani, member of the Municipality's Hospital Management, said that as against the IL12m. Tel Aviv hospital (300 beds), the Kaplan Hospital (260 beds) reached the same cost in three years' time at a cost of IL3m. The Kfar Saba 400-bed hospital cost IL3.5m. (450 beds) cost IL3.5m. Replying to the accusations, Mr. Schechterman questioned Mr. Degani's arithmetic and dubious source.

He told The Jerusalem Post that the new hospital, when opened in two or three months' time, would be a list submitted to Kupat Holim by the Medical Association.

KNESSET

(Continued from Page One)

groups so long as there were two standards of living. "I don't know if the rioters thought about all this, but such actions create a cruel feeling."

Rabbi Shlomo Lorincz (Agudat Yisrael) attributed ultimate responsibility to the fact that these immigrants had been "robbed" of their religious beliefs and attachment to tradition upon their arrival in Israel.

Dr. Moshe Sheh (Communists) said it was not just that the Oriental immigrants had a feeling of discrimination; the blame must fall on those in power for it was they who maintained the discrimination.

Mr. Ya'acov Nitani (Mapai) said that the source of the trouble was the absence of education for democracy and lack of respect for instruments of the State. The Jew of Casablanca or Tehran treated the gentile police with respect; not so here.

A dissenting view was expressed by Mr. David Hachon (Mapai). More than half the residents of Wadi Salib were not of the community which rioted. The fact was that the rioters were drunkards and habitual troublemakers. Nor was discrimination as widespread as had been claimed. The Oriental immigrants were not all employed in the same jobs. Thousands of them in Haifa worked in Histadrut industries, in the port, on the railway, and as civil servants.

In his reply, Mr. Shitrit called upon all parties to act in accordance with the views they had expressed regarding discrimination and the standard of living. As to "storm troops," neither he nor the Inspector-General knew anything about them. There was no such thing.

The President yesterday received a report on the Haifa incidents from Mr. Shitrit.

By-Law Shuts T.A. Shops in Afternoon

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The City Council has passed, by 14 votes to 10 the new by-law compelling all stores to close between 1.30 and 3.30 p.m. Wholesalers will have to close down at 5.30 p.m. and may reopen at 5 a.m. Eating places and kiosks may stay open until midnight, and flower shops until 9 p.m.

During festivals grocers are permitted to stay open until 8 p.m. Stores owned by non-Jews may remain open on Jewish holidays on condition that they close on their own festivals. Under the new by-law, eating places owned by Jews must close on the Day of Atonement and the eve of Tisha B'Av.

Supersol Ltd., owners of the Supermarket, told The Jerusalem Post yesterday that they are taking action on the Supreme Court against the decision.

Private M.D. Care For Kupat Holim Members

Jerusalem Post Bureau

TEL AVIV. — A large number of Kupat Holim members will now be able to receive treatment by private physicians under the agreement reached with the Medical Association, the Kupat Holim spokesman announced on Monday.

The agreement applies to those areas where Kupat Holim staff cannot cope with all patients seeking medical attention. This arrangement is part of the new family doctor scheme recently introduced into Kupat Holim. Insured members will be able to choose a physician from a list submitted to Kupat Holim by the Medical Association.

JAIL FOR DRIVER WHO KILLED CHILD

TEL AVIV. — An Eshel bus driver, David Kubel, who ran over and killed a child near Mikve Yisrael two years ago, was on Monday sentenced to three months in jail, and given a five-month suspended sentence.

Magistrate Y. Cohen-Megory did not agree to the request of the accused's counsel to impose a fine only, although he ruled that the child had been partly responsible for the tragedy. The accident occurred when the bus was on its way to Tel Aviv from Eilat and the child dashed into the road.

Ancient Copper Industry Site Said Found West of Timna

TEL AVIV. — In the days of King Solomon, a huge copper industry covering tens of thousands of miners, mainly Beduin, was operated a few kilometres west of the Timna Copper mines, Mr. Benno Rottenberg, photographer and amateur archaeologist, reported to the press on Monday.

Mr. Rottenberg, escorted by geologists, investigated and photographed the ancient copper mining sites in the Timna and "King Solomon's" area from February until a week ago. He showed coloured slides showing signs of the ancient industry.

Work Camps

The main ancient copper mine sites covered an area of 100 square kilometres to the west of Timna. There were "towns" and work camps, each with several thousand miners. Mr. Rottenberg also discovered more than 150 water holes and wells, ranging from 10 to 20 metres in depth. Copper mining started in the 11th century B.C.E. and continued until the 7th century B.C.E., he found.

A rock layer containing up to 10 per cent copper was discovered by Mr. Rottenberg some 10 kilometres west of Timna (at Timna the seams contained only 1.3 per cent copper, though of a different type). There the copper miners worked with primitive tools and mixed it with being hammer and anvil imported from the Arabian Peninsula. With these they ground the copper into powder and mixed it with stone and charcoal, brought from the Hills of Edom, before heating the mixture in holes dug in the ground. Mr. Rottenberg photographed thousands of these "ovens." Later the crude copper was sent to El-Zion Gayer for smelting, he said.

Mr. Rottenberg also found large quantities and varieties of ceramics in the area. He said that his discoveries will be published in detail by Dr. Yehonatan Aharoni under the auspices of the Hebrew University.

Namir to Appoint Building Industry C'ttee

Jerusalem Post Labour Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Minister of Labour, Mr. Mordechai Namir, will shortly appoint a public advisory commission for the building industry. The Jerusalem Post learned on Monday. The proposal has been approved by the Ministerial Economic Committee. The commission will have 40 members representing all sections of the industry, the unions and the building trades. Its functions will include the review of building techniques and standards, and of employment practices.

This new commission is considered part of the Minister's campaign to raise the industry's standards. Mr. Namir recently appointed a committee to draft a bill on the granting of work permits to building contractors. The members are: Mr. Y. Ben-Sira, of the Association of Engineers and Architects; Mr. H. Fleischer, Secretary of the Building Workers Union; Mr. A. Goldstein, Chairman of the Association of Contractors and Builders; and Mr. I. Ichilov, M.K. The committee has been instructed to work out the qualifications required of a contractor.

WADI SALIB: 'Outsiders Incited Haifa Riots'

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Association of North Africans on Monday called on North African immigrants not to be misled by rabble-rousers and charged that the Wadi Salib disturbances in Haifa last week had been instigated by "outsiders." The Chairman of the Association, Mr. Asher Hassan, told a press conference that North African immigrants have weighty grievances and it is surprising that this did not happen earlier.

Mr. Hassan claimed the Government-appointed committee of enquiry into the disturbances had not been given sufficient scope, and demanded a much larger commission to investigate housing, employment, education and the social status of North African immigrants in Israel. He charged that this community was being discriminated against.

"In Wadi Salib you will find families with 10 or even 12 children in one room, children sleeping under beds and many without a roof over their heads," and Haifa and the Labour Ministry should make a bigger effort to find housing for these residents, Mr. Hassan said. The North African immigrants are loyal citizens, but bitterness had understandably accumulated, Mr. Hassan continued.

He said he did not wish to name the outsiders "who had instigated the disturbances" because the enquiry committee had not yet finished its work. However, the police shooting of a drunkard, which started the rioting, should be condemned and the guilty men must be brought to justice.

The Association of North Africans claims 35,000 members in 30 branches. Leaders of the Association were still in Wadi Salib on Monday going what they could to ease tension there.

Wadi Residents Have Herut Meeting Halted

HAIFA. — An open-air Herut meeting that had been held in the Wadi Salib quarter last night was arrested by the organizers immediately after the speaker had begun to address the audience of residents of the area, where last Thursday's disturbances occurred, called on the speaker, Mr. Reuven Franco, of the Herut Party Centre, not to make his speech. Standing before the balcony of the Party Club, they shouted that the speaker did not want any party interference in their affairs and the speaker left at once.

The meeting was announced early last week, before the disturbances had occurred. Several hundred persons had assembled outside the Club but dispersed quietly when the speaker left. The police had concentrated strong forces around the Wadi before the meeting started to deal with any possible disturbances.

HOOPSTERS LOSE TO POLES 64:58

The Tel Aviv Hapoel basketball team lost to the Polish Legia team by 64:58 after leading in the first half 27:26, according to Monday's "Yediot Aharanot."

A COMPLAINT that the Abud Ha'avoda party organized in Tira Village joined Mapam a few weeks ago and took with him IL500 worth of furniture belonging to the local Abud Ha'avoda club was yesterday submitted by a representative of the latter party to Petah Tikva police.

BOYS PLAY IN NO-MAN'S LAND AS POLICE SEARCH FOR THEM

A report that three boys, aged 10 to 12, had been seen entering no-man's land near Jerusalem's Musrara quarter set the direct telephone connection between the New and Old Cities humming on Sunday night, as Jerusalem police contacted the Jordanian authorities for information on the boys.

Children in the quarter confirmed that the three boys had disappeared. Scores of police crossed the border into no-man's land, and combed the area for two hours with the help of giant spotlights. The light gradually edged towards a ruin at the edge of the border, and two of the boys emerged.

The Jordanians, meanwhile, had notified the Israeli authorities that the boys had not crossed into their territory. Some time later, it was discovered that the third missing boy had already gone home. (Itm) takes pleasure in inviting both parents and children to the

The Rina Nikova Ballet School

Certificates Award Ceremony

today, July 14, at the Studio, 36 Rehov Ussishkin, Jerusalem, at 4 p.m.

A British film on Ballet will be screened after the ceremony, by courtesy of Mr. Robert Brash, British Consul in Jerusalem.

Israel Students' Organization in the U.S.

NOTICE

All passengers who arrived with the chartered flights of the Israel Students Organization in the U.S. are invited to a meeting on Thursday, July 16, 1959, at 8 p.m. at the Scholem House, 4 Rehov Haskira, Tel Aviv.

Please confirm: Phone Tel Aviv, 58818.

Nissim's Envoys Urge Restraint

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A "peace-making" delegation was on Sunday sent to Wadi Salib by Chief Rabbi I. Nissim to persuade residents there not to be carried away by passions and to help restore calm.

In a verbal report to Rabbi Nissim late the same night, the delegation said it had spoken with many scores of North African immigrants there, and was impressed by their genuine desire to clear the atmosphere. The residents of Wadi Salib enumerated their complaints to the delegation, and described the feelings of bitterness which had grown. At the same time, they expressed their shame at the events of last Thursday, reported the delegation.

The delegation, composed of Rabbi Yitzhak Abuhadra, Chief Rabbi of Ramle, and Mr. Alfonso Sabah and Mr. Yehonatan Aharoni, leaders of the North African community here, will submit a report in writing to Rabbi Nissim.

Man Remanded In Woman's Death

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Yosef Levy was on Monday remanded by the Magistrates Court for 15 days under suspicion of being involved in the death of Judith Menekseles, 28. She died in hospital on Sunday night from burns she suffered the night before in her flat at 64 King George Street.

A second suspect, Mrs. Olga Spitzer, is still under arrest but has not yet been remanded.

In requesting the detention order, the police representative said Mrs. Menekseles had recovered consciousness two hours before her death and told police officers that Levy had set her clothes on fire. Levy told the court he was a driver and had known the woman in Hungary. They came to this country together and were good friends.

Levy told the court he was a driver and had known the woman in Hungary. They came to this country together and were good friends.

His reports that police find Levy does not cover the time of the alleged murder. Detectives are still investigating the possibility of suicide. A fur coat was found lying near the woman while the family's winter clothes were in storage. The possibility is being considered that she planned to simulate suicide by setting her clothes on fire and then extinguishing the flames with the fur coat, but that she got caught up in the flames.

The dead woman's husband, George, who was detained six days ago under suspicion of stealing fuel coupons, was released on bail by Magistrate S. Rosner on Monday, so that he might attend the funeral. His sister, Mrs. S. Rosner, filed a IL500 bond. (Itm)

Galilee Villagers Back Water Scheme

NAZARETH. — The project of piping drinking water into the homes in eight villages in the Nazareth area, which was proposed by the Ministry of Agriculture last Friday, was warmly welcomed by the villagers who heard of the scheme from their mukhtars over the weekend.

In order to get water quickly, 50 persons from Ramat Naftali agreed to pay IL100 each to raise the IL5,000 deposit required from every village.

'Man Originated In Kazakhstan'

MOSCOW (UPI). — Soviet science on Monday claimed another "first" man.

Soviet anthropologist Georgi Dobets, writing in the magazine "Sovetskoye Kazakhstan," said America, Australia or Oceania could not have produced the first human being. Only Kazakhstan, the Soviet Union, has the earmarks of man's beginnings. Dobets said in the article, which was quoted by the Soviet news agency, Tass.

America, Australia and other places lacked the vital necessity of abundant supplies of narrow-necked monkeys, man's original ancestors, the Soviet scientist wrote.

In Kazakhstan, he said, big stone tools used by cavemen had been found which were hundreds of thousands of years older than even the ancient flint tools found earlier in another Soviet Republic, Uzbekistan.

Mass of Hassidim Welcome Satmar Rebbe to Jerusalem

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A tumultuous welcome was accorded to Rabbi Yoel Teitelbaum, outspoken anti-Zionist "Rebbe of Satmar," when the Rabbi's special train pulled into Jerusalem on Monday evening.

The Hassidim almost crushed the frail-looking 72-year-old rabbi as they rushed forward to try and kiss the hems of his garments. Police and ushers had to use force to fight them off.

An hour before the train arrived at 8.37 p.m., the square before the station was packed with thousands of restless Hassidim, wearing the traditional black kufas. Orthodox women stood apart in the background. Scores of police were around the station (traffic had been barred), and in the train yard, where the Maronite Fair was being held.

The Eda Haredit assigned 85 husky young ushers to the station area under direct police command.

A senior police officer told The Jerusalem Post that "this is the first time that they've cooperated with the police. It gives you a strange feeling, for on former occasions we had to disperse their illegal demonstrations."

"I know them all, for I've detained them at one time or another for failing to register for military service and for illegal demonstrations. Every time I see them, I go to spread stories about the police beating them up, I'm going to send pictures abroad showing them, and we're working hard to have the head."

Chanting, Dancing

With the arrival of the seven-carriage train which normally accommodates 585 persons and yesterday had more than 900 persons, the train was packed with chanting and dancing. Those leaning out of the train windows, pounded on the sides of the carriage with their hands.

The Rabbi, who hid his face from photographers, was supported on either side. He was hustled into a large dark-blue sedan, which was parked on the station platform. The car had been hired by Mr. Irving Gross, 23, of New York, for Rabbi Teitelbaum's use in Israel.

When the car, driven by Mr. Gross, left the station, the crowd surged forward time and time again, almost trampling the line of ushers under foot. The car was blocked again and again until policemen, afoot and mounted, charged forward and restored order.

Once free of the station, the vehicle, led by mounted policemen, proceeded slowly to the Meah Shearim Quarter. The roads were lined with cheering crowds. The Quarter itself was strung with festoons of coloured electric bulbs.

When the car arrived at the Satmar Yeshiva in Rehov Yoel, the crowd chanted "Long Live Our Lord, Our Teacher, Our Rabbi, Holiest Man of His Generation."

The ushers pushed out "gate-crashers" who tried to force their way into the synagogue. After the rabbi entered with a small entourage, hundreds of Hassidim stood outside, pounding on the metal door and begging for admittance.

After prayers, the Rabbi left late in the evening for the Zefania Hotel where he is staying.

Shaked Resigns As Mayor of Natanya

Jerusalem Post Reporter

NATANYA. — Mayor Moshe Shaked (Progressive) and three of his four Deputy Mayors resigned last night before the Municipal Council, removing them from office. The resignations were accepted by an eight to six vote of the Municipal Council, with the General Zionists, Herut, Hapoel Hamizrachi and Abud Ha'avoda joining hands against the outgoing coalition.

The Deputy Mayors who resigned together with Mayor Shaked were: David Gefen (Mapai), Dan Weiffred (Mapam) and David Dahary (Independent). The only remaining Deputy Mayor, Mr. David Ancilevitz of Abud Ha'avoda, who voted with the opposition, now becomes Acting Mayor until the nomination of a new Mayor and his approval by the Minister of Interior.

Hundreds of citizens crowded into the town hall.

From Arch to Arc in 57 Minutes By Motorcycle, 'Copter, Jet

PARIS (Reuters). — Captain R.M. Bamford-Walker travelled from London's Marble Arch to the Paris Arc de Triomphe yesterday—in just over 57 minutes—then, after two glasses of French wine, turned round and left for London again in an attempt to improve his timing.

But the return journey took him an extra two-and-a-half minutes.

Another early entrant yesterday was the British racing driver, Stirling Moss, who travelled from the Arch to the Arc in an unofficial two hours, 45 minutes, 36 seconds after being held up by a policeman and traffic lights in London.

Another "conventional" traveller, Mr. George Eyles, of Hampton Hill, Middlesex, trimmed 42 seconds off Moss' time by radio cab, taxi helicopter and chartered taxiplane.

He arrived nearly dead with fright at the Arc in two hours, 45 minutes and 42 seconds, driven by a French taxi driver who kept his speedometer at 75 m.p.h. most of the way from Toussus-le-Noble aerodrome.

"I was never so scared in my life," Mr. Eyles said.

Jewish Scholar Backs Ties with Germany

Jerusalem Post Reporter

LONDON (Reuters). — The director of the Jewish College in Zurich, Dr. Herman Goldschmidt, said here Sunday night he believed that what happened between 1933 and 1945, the Jews would have been right in breaking utterly and in every respect with the German people.

He was addressing delegates at the four-day-old international conference of the World Union for Progressive Judaism on practical and ethical relations with Germany.

Dr. Goldschmidt was born in Berlin but went to Switzerland in 1938.

A member of the governing body of the Union for Liberal Judaism in Switzerland, he is the author of many books on Jewish scholarship.

"After this experience, of such a revolutionary order, it would have been a great step, an outstanding symbol," he said. "We did not do so because we were too half-hearted."

Dr. Goldschmidt said that now, however, the world should face the facts. Jews had crossed again into Germany and were living there, and the State of Israel had started to work together with Western Germany. "We must not only accept this fact but must bring ourselves to approve it," he said.

Dr. Goldschmidt said that Germany had really changed since the destruction of the war, and the continuity had been lost.

A decision to transfer the headquarters of the World Union for Progressive Judaism from London to New York "as soon as convenient" was taken here in private by delegates on Monday.

Constituent organizations throughout the world, represented at the conference, have already approved the transfer.

A GROUP of Hadassah members visited the Mothercraft Training Centre in Tel Aviv and the Canadian Wizo Children's and Youth Village, Hadassah, on Sunday.

Business in Europe

FLY DC-7C

On KLM's world network of speed you fly straight to the great industrial area of Northern Europe. First Amsterdam, then minutes to Brussels, Düsseldorf, London, Paris, Frankfurt, etc. And Flying KLM is not just good business, it's a pleasure. Make an effort to fly KLM — every kilometre you experience the genuine personal touch. For always — to KLM you're more than a passenger — you're a person.

Visit many European cities on an extra special Ask your Travel Agent, check the KLM "Stop-over" Plan, or call KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, Tel. 61203/4/5, 64255/6 Tel Aviv.

Mass of Hassidim Welcome Satmar Rebbe to Jerusalem

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A tumultuous welcome was accorded to Rabbi Yoel Teitelbaum, outspoken anti-Zionist "Rebbe of Satmar," when the Rabbi's special train pulled into Jerusalem on Monday evening.

The Hassidim almost crushed the frail-looking 72-year-old rabbi as they rushed forward to try and kiss the hems of his garments. Police and ushers had to use force to fight them off.

An hour before the train arrived at 8.37 p.m., the square before the station was packed with thousands of restless Hassidim, wearing the traditional black kufas. Orthodox women stood apart in the background. Scores of police were around the station (traffic had been barred), and in the train yard, where the Maronite Fair was being held.

The Eda Haredit assigned 85 husky young ushers to the station area under direct police command.

A senior police officer told The Jerusalem Post that "this is the first time that they've cooperated with the police. It gives you a strange feeling, for on former occasions we had to disperse their illegal demonstrations."

THE JERUSALEM POST

Published in The Jerusalem Post on Saturday, July 14, 1959. Registered at the G.P.O. as a newspaper. Material reserved: reproduction permitted only by arrangement.

Founders: CHAIM WEINSTEIN and YIP HING

Managing Editor: YIP HING

Editorial Office and Administration: YIP HING

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

Published by YIP HING, 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Printed at the Jerusalem Post Press, Ltd., 10, King George V Avenue, Tel Aviv.

Subscription: 12 months, 12/6. Single copies, 1/6.

London Letter

BIRTH OF A SKYSCRAPER CITY

By Anthony Sampson

LONDON (AP). — ANYONE who is returning to London after a year or more away is struck by one dominating change: the city is at last being built.

The building boom that is changing the London skyline is by far the biggest in 20 years, since the beginning of the war.

It is not just that the wartime gaps are being at last filled in: the whole character of the city is being changed. Hardly a week goes by without plans for a new skyscraper being announced.

The old idea of London — the idea of Frank Lloyd Wright's "Broadacre City" — that it should be a low city, with only a few high buildings like Big Ben or St. Paul's, and with the parks interspersed by tall buildings at its edges, has been suddenly abandoned.

Quiet Revolution

London will soon be like so many other big cities of the world — a place of high glass-and-steel skyscrapers, starting each other across quaint and ancient buildings.

To Londoners who have become used to seeing their city unchanged except for bomb damage for 20 years, the new building spree is strangely upsetting.

It is not only vertically that the face of London is changing: roadbuilding, an industry which until recently seemed to have become extinct, has begun again: a huge brick bridge on the way to London Airport — is soon to be completed. New fast roads are being driven through the suburban outskirts in West and South London, making whole areas scarcely recognizable. London has at last woken up to the invention of the motorcar.

In this changing outward face of London, it is tempting to see a symbol of a much greater change in its whole character. For 100 years or more, Britain has regarded its whole industry as a quiet, unobtrusive, Victorian industrialism, believing that their factories, railways and buildings had the quality of permanence; ever since then Britain has been quietly shocked at the American idea that motorcars, clothes or refrigerators are temporary things which can and should be thrown away after a few years, to be replaced by new and better ones. The British cult of the old car, the well-worn suit and the ancient radio is more than a little a nation is not brought up on Racine and Corneille for nothing.

Looking at other people's problems always has the comfort that it makes your own problems decrease in acuteness. There is a grain of confidence added, too, at the sight of other nations coming out of their difficulties stronger than before the crisis.

An analogy is instinctively made — an analogy of outcome, not of solutions, for these would usually supply a false analogy.

The problem which we are facing here has only one thing in common with French political life that we, as well as the French, cling to personal freedom, while, as well as in France, the main problem for the government is to be able to govern without being pulled in every direction at once.

For a government must be able to govern, this is its function, and if it cannot perform it, it must give way to another body of men. There is nothing more dangerous to the safety of a state than a government which is too weak to take important decisions on their own merits, without having to take extraneous considerations into account.

When the State of Israel was established, it emulated the parliamentary systems of Great Britain and France. The men who did the constitutional thinking in Israel were all directly or indirectly, under the influence of the ideas of the French Revolution and French and British parliamentary life was what they tried to give Israel.

The best way to assure the liberty of the individual and produce a workable government. That the system did not work too well in France and that it has caused many political upheavals here, must induce us to search for the reason, in order that a solution of our own can be found.

There is one profound difference between our political scene and that of the Western democracies, and that is that our political parties are, in fact, closed organizations devoted to pursuing specific aims. They do not represent general interests, like the Conservatives or Labour in Great Britain. They do not represent general ideologies, theoretical systems, as in the Fourth Republic, Politics, for most Israeli parties, is a species of religion. In any case a matter of faith. One does not expect a religious group to compromise — although compromise is the essence of coalition government. (Raymond Massey) is quite a few months before a general election on the necessity of a change in the present parliamentary organization. But it would perhaps be a good reminder to future legislators that one can devise a parliamentary system which would not prevent a government from carrying out its normal processes. After all, democracy is a political system which gives everybody the right to say what he thinks and choose his government, and change it when he wants, not to stop the government, once elected, from doing its job.

Out and Out

ENGLISH snobbery is all

ways re-emerging in different forms; the people who invent it, of course, are not the old-established families, but the ones who are trying to show that they are old-established.

The essence of the snob game is to keep on producing a new mystique, which those who are outside the charmed circle cannot understand.

A new form of the game was produced three years ago, when Nancy Mitford, the satirical novelist, popularized the idea of U and non-U.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

Out and Out

ENGLISH snobbery is all

ways re-emerging in different forms; the people who invent it, of course, are not the old-established families, but the ones who are trying to show that they are old-established.

The essence of the snob game is to keep on producing a new mystique, which those who are outside the charmed circle cannot understand.

A new form of the game was produced three years ago, when Nancy Mitford, the satirical novelist, popularized the idea of U and non-U.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

It is not quite the same as U; it is not quite as firmly bound to the traditional values of the aristocracy. It is possible for a U to be everything the Queen does (as opposed to what "The Queen" does) is almost certainly In.

For instance, the In-game does not look like having the same vogue as the U-game; in fact, it is said that the word Out is already Out.

YESTERDAY'S PRESS COMMENT

Nasser's Terms Unacceptable

Haifa (National Religious) — does not see a constructive solution of the Suez problem in Western advice to put to a practical test Nasser's "magnanimous concession" of agreeing to turn a blind eye to the passage of Israeli goods providing they are no longer Israeli property. It would on the one hand make consumers of the goods, and on the other hand, it would mean that the goods would be sold at a price which would be a concession to the Arabs.

Haifa (General Zionist) — Nasser's conditions, for we shall only end up by reviving ourselves to a Canal completely sealed off our trade. Since Mr. Hammarskjöld has failed to persuade the Cairo dictator, there is no way out but to embark on a campaign to press those nations who in principle favour a Canal open to all nations, showing Nasser that it is not only Israel whom he is troubling but the entire world.

Haifa (World Aguda) — writes that if Israel accepts the proposed arrangement, she will be able to continue the fight for her rights and not give up the opportunity to pose as a charitable soul who has designed to concede a point.

The spectacle known as the Knesset which is now touring America is the subject of scathing comment by Ma'ariv which attacks the conference at which the Jews in the Soviet Union were living extremely well and even better, never, never, never, charged the Dnieper with being anti-Semitic or anti-Israel. Our complaint is about the attitude of the authorities, not the river. Kozlov has failed to answer the point.

Yediot Aharanot writes that no matter how the Russians snub us abroad and no matter how many Jewish spies are detected in Israel, we simply must ignore the incident. So Kozlov is right: we deserve the treatment he meted out to us, and the Jews are right: we must ignore the incident. So Kozlov is right: we deserve the treatment he meted out to us, and the Jews are right: we must ignore the incident.

Yediot Aharanot writes that no matter how the Russians snub us abroad and no matter how many Jewish spies are detected in Israel, we simply must ignore the incident. So Kozlov is right: we deserve the treatment he meted out to us, and the Jews are right: we must ignore the incident.